We've got it covered

Outboards are not the cheapest piece of kit on your boat. And with prices of anything up to £15,000, they deserve a little protection. UV from the sun, salt water and road grime, if you trail your boat, will all leave their mark on your shiny paintwork. What you need is a protective cover, and Outboard Covers

UK has a range that looks ideal. Its choice of splash covers provide protection to the cowling when the boat is in use. These are tailor-made for specific engines and can be customised with a boat's name or graphics of your choice. A selection of full covers are also available for when the boat is in storage or on the road, providing protection for the entire engine, right down to the prop.

The covers, available in numerous colours, are made from a fade and rot-resistant material with a soft lining and durable outer layer.

Price: from £50
